Muzi Yeni

t has been a week of mixed emotions for me. Last Saturday I came away a little battered and bruised after my incident in the pens before Race 8. My mount, Cleaver Greene, became unruly and reared in the stalls during the loading process and I was dislodged.

Fortunately, I am feeling a lot better now.

I was glad to have a winner at Greyville on Wednesday and I'm hoping to kick-start the run I was having before the incident.

Racing today takes place on the Inside track at Turffontein and there is a 10-race card to preview.

The headliner is the Grade 3 Sea Cottage Stakes over 1800m for three-year-olds and this is backed up by a Middle Stakes over 1800m.

Once again, we are able to watch some very decent horses taking their places on the card and the Sea Cottage Stakes is a good guide towards the upcoming Triple Crown.

I have seven rides, and as you will see it's a meeting that has no maiden plates and my assumption is this is because all the races in Thursday's work riders' meet-ing were maiden plates.

Race 1 is a MR 77 Handicap for fillies and mares over 1450m and I ride very consistent Coral Dawn who has just won her maiden and deserved that victory.

I'm quite surprised it took her so long to win her maiden but I'm hoping that would give her confidence and I'm hoping she'll run into the money, even though it's a step up in class.

This is a wide-open race but my narrow first selection is the up-and-coming Full Royalty who could still be better than rated.

Stolen Kiss, Escape Artist and three-year-olds over 1450m and I really like the look of About To Storm who is clearly way above average, and off a good draw will take all the beating.

He is my value bet on the card because he receives 8kg from the runner I believe is his main danger, Val D'Orcia, and I think that's what will make the difference.

These two horses should get you through all bets.

Race 3 is a MR 95 Handicap for fillies and mares over 1450m and I really like the look of three-yearold filly Bon Vivant.

She won the Secretariat Stakes last time out and comes in with 52.5kg and jumps from No 1 draw. This looks a good opportunity for her to follow up. Hawker Typhoon, Admire Me and Elusive Current are her main dangers and look to one of them if you want to go wider in your bets. Race 4 is a MR 88 Handicap for fillies and mares over 2000m and

I ride She's A Cracker who is having her third run after a rest and is in good form, so I'm expecting a bold run and make her the filly to beat.

There are a few three-yearolds who must be respected but I have a handy weight so I think I can pull this off.

Linganomore won a nice race last time and could enjoy the step up in trip while Mike's Chick is another who must be respected. Aryaam could be a lurker off a light weight. Race 5 is a MR 71 Handicap for fillies and mares over 2000m and I ride Zazu who would have to improve on her last two runs to feature. This is a wide-open race so go as wide as your budget allows but my narrow first selection is Keepingthepeace. She won a good race two runs back and runs against fillies again so must have a chance.

Bella Swan, Three Hills and Cap Estel all have winning claims and must be included as they are her main dangers.

Race 6 is a Middle Stakes over 1800m and I think Supreme Dance is the horse to beat.

He looked all over a winner last time and I think the 2000m just stretched him, so reverting to 1800m will definitely benefit him.

Flying Bull, Bureau Des Legende and King's Crusade look to be the main dangers and are horses to include in larger bets.

Race 7 is the Grade 3 Sea Cottage Stakes over 1800m and I ride and will love the step-up in trip, so is the main danger, while Platinum Sky won with authority last time and could be developing into a very decent three-year-old.

Race 8 is a MR 96 Handicap over 1450m and I ride Ivalo's Prince who always tries his best. Another honest effort is expected and I'm hoping to get into the placings.

I think Goodtime Guy will take all the beating. He won in a Plate race last time and only received a six-point penalty, the maximum allowed in that race, even though he achieved much higher.

A repeat of that will see him win again.

Grappler is the main danger stepped up in trip and this is what he could be looking for, while Theory Of Flight is another who must be respected.

Race 9 is a MR 80 Handicap over 1450m and I ride Cleveland. I won on him three starts back and he gave me a good feel.

He is drawn well again, and back in this class, I think he must be included in all bets.

This is a field race because most of the horses have winning claims, so go as wide as the budget allows.

Euro Cent could be the horse to beat after a very good last win. He is drawn well again and could follow up.

Race 10 is a MR 78 Handicap for fillies and mares over 1450m and I ride Amazon Orchid. She has been disappointing in her last few starts and I'm really hoping she'll improve, but I cannot give any confidence.

Groundhog Day won a lovely race on debut and could definitely follow up if she is at peak fitness after a small break.

Spiritofthegroove drops drastically in both ratings and class and this could be a perfect opportunity for her to get back on the winning trail, while Run April Run must be respected if you ignore her last run.

 PREVIEW
 A highly competitive event and the strong-travelling UNEXPECTED PARTY looks capable of making his mark, having once again indicated that he has plenty more to offer when second at Wetherby last time. A bad mistake at the last did him no favours that day and the Dan Skelton-trained gelding is favoured ahead of Garry Clermont, who ran another good race at this track when third in the Bettair Trophy on his latest outing. Stellar Magic still has the scope to progress over hurdles and also merits consideration.

 PREVIEW
 First Flow won this last year by some seven lengths but will do well to make it back-to-back victories now taking on the mighty SHISHKIN and Willie Mullins-trained Energumene. Just 1b separates the two exciting eight-year-olds on official figures, with Shishkin just edging that argument, and the dual Cheltenham Festival winner is entitled to have oome on plenty for his reappearance at Kempton over Christmas. There wasn't much wrong with his 10-length Desert Orchid Chase success at the expense of the Tingle Creek winner, but he was getting 3b from Paul Nicholis charge that day and better might be needed now he's taking on the best in Ireland off level weights. Amoola Gold looks booked for fourth.

PREVIEW Complete Unknown has had a few chances to break his maiden over hurdles and the form of his last-start course third has been let down since, with the second getting beat at Doncaster and the winne just fith of seven in the Learnington last weekend. It could, therefore, pay to side with the mare GALIA DES UTEAUX, who gets weight from her rivals and created a deep impression on her hurdles bow at Wetherby on Boxing Day. Monbeg Genius and Charles Ritz can also have their say.

TIPS 3 OUR JESTER 2 ESTACAS 8 SO SCOTTISH

PREVIEW German raider ESTACAS is back for more following his debut success at Ascot in late October. The form of that race looks fairly solid, with the second and fourth both successful since, and this smartly-bred son of Galileo might improve for a subsequent gelding operation. He shades the verdict ahead of Our Jester, who showed improved form when making a winning reappearance at Ascot in November, while Irish raider So Scottish and Aintree scorer Legionar add further spice to the race. PREVIEW An intriguing contest which sees Brewin'upastorm attempt to make amends for his last flight fall in the Relkeel at the start of the month, where the nine-year-old looked to hold every chance of landing his second Grade 2 win over hurdles. Another bold bid looks likely but he may struggle to concede weight to the former Champion Hurdle third DARVER STAR, who looked much more like his old set when hacking up at Punchestown last time. Miranda didn't look the easiest when winning at Ludlow on her latest start and Goshen with the set of th might prove a bigger danger to the selection, with a return to this trip possibly in his favour. TIPS 1 BRISTOL DE MAI 2 DASHEL DRASHER 5 ITCHY FEET

PREVIEW Bristol De Mai was unable to add to his superb record in the Betfair Chase last time but the popular grey should be capable of a much better showing back in calmer waters. However, the 11-year-old might struggle to hold off the porling winner DASHEL DRASHER, who has already hit the mark at the top level over fences and may still have more to offer. The improving Fanion D'estruval is a threat if taking up this engagement (declared at Ascot yesterday), while Itchy Feet ran creditably behind Bravemansgame at Havdock on his latest start and can also figure.

 PREVIEW
 The selection is GO WHATEVER, who is fancied to land a National double after a taking victory at Plumpton earlier in the month, for which he has been raised 7lb. With plenty more improvement likely from the son of Gold Well, he can once again tend off the challenge of Pemberley, who arrives here 7lb better off for a seven-length defat. Laskalin looks just the type to improve for a step up in trip, while Just Your Type has been a regular in these sorts of events. Smooth Stepper and The Galloping Bear are others to note.

TIPS 3 NOTHIN TO ASK 2 JAZZ KING 8 GLOBAL AGREEMENT

PREVIEW The ability to handle testing conditions could be crucial in the outcome of this race, and NOTHIN TO ASK looks the one to be with having been placed on heavy ground in the past. Fergal O'Brien's charge could be thrown in off a mark of 120 on his handicap debut after a taking success at Chepstow over Christmas. Jazz King would hold strong claims if bouncing back to the form of his penultimate effort, while the in-form Global Agreement may not need to find much to get involved. The largely frustrating Shearer could also
